Exterior Stone Finish for Legends Arena, 220 Hospital Street,
Sydney, Nova Scotia, CANADA.

Issuing Date: August 5, 2025
Closing Date: September 1, 2025

Description

Legends Arena is undergoing a retrofit to repurpose the now decommissioned Centennial Arena ice rink into a multi court sports facility.

The arena is being divided into five (5) sections on the ground floor. The entrance will serve as the first section with approximate dimensions 35' x 120'. The next section comprises a volleyball court with the next two sections being configured for basketball. The courts will run perpendicular to the entrance with approximate dimensions of 57' x 120' each. The two basketball sections together can also serve as combined space with overall approximate dimensions of 114' x 120'. The front exterior of the building is undergoing a refresh.

RFQ Scope

This RFQ invites companies to provide current pricing for materials for refinishing the front exterior of the building. The stone is to be a mortarless product with a (hidden) screw track. Please include estimated lead time for materials.

Tomorrow's Legends Background

Tomorrow's Legends is a federally incorporated not-for-profit Canadian company that has been established in 2021 for the purpose of empowering youth through sport and culture.

Its primary goal is to establish a state-of-the-art solar powered sports and cultural centre, known as Legends Arena, to enable sporting entities to deliver consistent and quality youth sports programs for kids all across Cape Breton.

By holding a strong notion that organized sports has a profound impact on the lives of youth and families, providing access to sports is a significant contribution to building stronger communities and healthier economies. Organized sports strengthen one's sense of belonging, self-confidence, and teaches kids how to deal with setbacks, learn from those setbacks and achieve success. Sports often proves to be significant in helping kids become young motivated adults.

Legends Arena

Legends Arena, formerly Centennial Arena, will be a state-of-the-art facility showcasing green energy, cultural diversity, and an unparalleled delivery of youth sports. As an ultra-affordable community space, it will be home to thousands of young athletes by reducing financial barriers and instilling a sense of belonging and self worth in all of its athletes.

Legends Arena will be comprised of basketball courts, volleyball courts, pickleball courts and will accommodate other sports related activities such as pitching practice and modified indoor training activities. A media and hospitality room will also be constructed to enable clubs to host events and tournaments. Situated at 220 Hospital Street in Sydney, the arena's location provides easy access to surrounding communities to increase enrollment among kids in organized court sports.
